

DR. MARGE BANOCY-PAYNE CLASS OF 2002

Dr. Marge Banocy-Payne built a life and career shaped by a deep belief in the power of education. After earning her bachelor's and master's degrees from Indiana University of Pennsylvania, she began teaching in public schools in western Pennsylvania, where she worked with students across ability levels and served as chair of the language arts department. In 1982, Dr. Banocy-Payne joined Tallahassee State College as a reading instructor and later became an English instructor, bringing to the classroom a broad understanding of how students learn, build confidence, and develop essential skills.

She earned her Ph.D. from Florida State University in 1986 and went on to serve the College in many leadership roles, including Faculty Senate Chair and President of the TSC Chapter of the former Florida Association of Colleges. In 1997, she became Dean of Communications and Humanities, where she worked with faculty to strengthen freshman English, supported the renovation of the arts gallery and Turner Auditorium theater, and helped advance initiatives in global education, writing across the curriculum, and critical thinking. Her decades of service reflect a lasting commitment to students, faculty, and the life-changing mission of the College.
